

The Greatest Play

By FRED OLMSTEAD.

That I Ever Saw

Pitcher Chicago American League Team, and Who Is Considered One of the Coming Pitchers of the Country.

You may know that down in my part of the country, which is Oklahoma, the wind blows. When that kind starts blowing it does a finished job.

What's that got to do with baseball? Say, maybe you never tried to play ball in one of those Oklahoma winds. Well, that wind of ours caused the greatest play I ever saw. It has caused several folks to start to call me a liar. Well, one day when I was with the Wagner team then—went to play a team out at Anadarko. It was pretty quiet at the start, only blowing about 40 miles an hour, but toward the end of the game a breeze sprang up, and in the ninth inning it began to blow. We had the game won then, seven to five, but the wind started blowing right back from the other. All I had to do was to twist as it kept blowing two feet away all the time. I got the batter three and two, and knew the next one had to go over. I had just held it up and let it blow straight over the heart of the plate. Then came the most wonderful play I ever saw. The batter hit that ball. His name was Sawyer and his middle name was Hit, and he hit it so hard that it bored a hole in the breeze and started for the center field fence. I thought it was all over, but when the ball got almost over the fence the wind started to blow it back. The center fielder was playing with his back to the diamond, to catch fly balls coming back, and he started to back up. The ball was going over his head coming in, when he jumped and grabbed it. It was one of the greatest catches I ever saw. He saw he didn't have time to turn and throw to keep the runner from scoring third, so instead he just let go the ball and it started to blow to the plate. I had to dodge to keep it from hitting me. It blew straight into the catcher's hands, and I thought the game was over, as the runner was 30 feet from home. Imagine my feelings when I saw the catcher start to blow away with the ball in his hands. The runner was trying to tack to the plate, but the wind caught him and blew him against the catcher just as the stand stopped them both, and he was tagged out.

WRESTLING MATCH IS FAIR FEATURE

WILCOX, Ariz., Sept. 11.—A new feature has just been booked for the Wilcox fair, which promises to be one of the most attractive numbers of the three days' program of amusement. R. E. Woodman, of Bowie, trained wrestler, will meet Chas. Roberts, of Tucson, in a match for the best two falls out of three. Woodman's weight is 170, while Roberts is 167 pounds, and the close weight, if matched equally on other points, will make the winning a matter of close work on the part of each.

The match will be pulled off on the fair grounds at 4 p. m. September 15.

GUN CLUB ADDS ANOTHER EVENT TO WEEKLY CONTESTS.

A new event was started Sunday by the El Paso Gun club, in which a razor and strap is to be shot for, five shots prone position at 300 yards with sporting rifles only. The marksmen who win the event the most times between September 16 and December 31 of this year is to become the owner.

All marksmen in El Paso are invited to go out to the range and compete for all prizes. The shoots take place every Sunday morning at 9 o'clock and the rifles are expected to be on time, as no event will be opened after once closed.

Sunday's scores in the three events were as follows:

	Modal	Cup	Razor
Baca	20	20	22
Rutledge	22	22	22
Haines	21	21	22
Pringle	20	20	22
R. Pringle	20	14	10
Hopper	24	24	24
Paul	21	21	21
Hopper	21	21	21

Paul and Hopper arrived late and did not shoot in medal event.

PLAY 24 INNINGS AND STILL TIED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 11.—Twenty-four innings of fast baseball was not enough to decide the game between Portland and Sacramento of the Pacific Coast league here Sunday, and when darkness closed the contest it was a 1 to 1 tie. The time was three hours and 45 minutes. The number of innings played approaches the record set by Bloomington and Decatur of the Three I league on May 21, 1909, when it required 26 innings for Bloomington to win 2 to 1.

WOLGAST CONTINUES TRAINING.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 11.—Light-weight champion Ad Wolgast continued training Sunday for his contest with Paeky McFarland in Milwaukee next Friday night, despite the threat of a heavy rain. He said that he would not permit the contest to be staged.

O'Brien, the pitcher who was recently sold to the Boston Americans, and the man who Henry McFarland said was going to make O'Toole hike for the brush, won his first game for Boston on Saturday.

Manager Clark of the Pittsburgh Nationals, will pull off an entirely new stunt this season by having a mid-season practice. He took the whole crew from St. Louis to West Baden, Ind., on Sunday. They will remain there two full days, lap up all the water in the springs, take morning "hikes," and go through stiff daily exercise. President Dreyfus thinks that by this means he will have them in fine condition for the deciding clash with the Cubs and Giants.

Hill, of the Mills, is not only the only no hit pitcher of the league, but the only pitcher in the league batting in the .300 class.

It now looks like the winter baseball on the coast talk was but a sweet snore. When it was first brought up, earlier in the season, there was good reason to expect that the grandmother game would do service the year round, but lately much opposition has come out. The coast league managers are opposed to the plan on the grounds that it makes the players stale for the work in the spring. Without exception the managers have now declared themselves against it.

George Smith, the star second sacker of the pennant winning Austin team, equaled the world's record in running to first on a bunt, covering the 90 feet in 3 1-5 seconds. The speedy marathon was pulled off during the field day events, in which the exhibition, but there have been some Austin champs took part.

BIG SCORES IN CITY LEAGUE SUNDAY

Internationals and Millers Win—Latter Cinch the Pennant

The "combination" that was to tie the three of the local teams failed to "combine" on Sunday, and both games gave the fans brain gas adding up the scores.

The first game, between the soldiers and the Internationals, proved to be a complete walkover for the Internationals. In the first inning Donaldson went to pieces and the batting went twice round and brought in eight men. After that the soldiers took a brace and in the fourth inning they brought in three runs.

In the fifth Donaldson shut out the Intern without letting them get a man on base, but the latter team held the military boys from scoring. The Interns made their last score in the sixth inning and a nothing nothing rally went up for the seventh. Valenzuela, the Inter right fielder, made some pretty catches, and in the sixth inning, on a cross between a bunt and a foul, he got to first. On a wild throw by Donaldson, first baseman Best got the ball in the side instead of his mitt, and Valenzuela took a brace and in the third the next man up and was brought to the home plate by Medina.

The score by innings was: Internationals, 800 001 0—3; Fort Bliss, 000 000 0—0. Batteries: Internationals, Cardenas and Flores; Fort Bliss, Donaldson and Granth.

Millers Cinch Pennant.

The optimists who looked for a close game between the Millers and the Sox got a badly jolted look for the comedy of errors that followed the Inter-Infantry game just about cinched the Millers' pennant and put them up one of the biggest scores of the season.

In the first inning Grady and Doering both got their bases on balls, and a sizzler by Corning brought them both home and Corning to second. He stole third and clobbered over the fence on a sacrifice by Hoover. The Sox made only one run to chalk up against the Miller three runs in the first, which he left for home when Ross came to bat.

Hill is Nearly Hit. Ross nearly knocked pitcher Hill in the bean when he came to bat. He made a wild swing and accidentally let the bat go, but by a quick low brace Hill escaped a flight into the solar region. The Sox went to pieces in the second inning, throwing the bean all over the lot and letting in five of the Grabsers. A little brace followed in the third, when Perkins got one run against the Miller Sox, but the adding machines came out again in the fourth. Nagle set the pink tea going with a good line of hits, which landed him on the first pillow.

Then Armstrong hit a three bagger and Nagle stroled in. Pomeroy got Armstrong in and the catcher Pomeroy's catchless catching, Hill and Grady both home. In the fifth Grady both home, taken out by the Sox and Manquera was put in as catcher. Doering led off with his second two bagger and Corning came to first. Hoover brought in the two men with a safety and got to first himself, Harbin failing to connect with his bat.

Then the Stockings absolutely went to pieces and let five men put their brands on the rubber plate. Harbin bin took a good brace in the sixth and pitched a no hit inning. The Millers let the Sox run in the seventh. Arnold, just to revive interest, but in the last they made one more run and closed out the Sox.

The game by innings: Globe Mills, 353 450 1—31; White Sox, 101 113 0—6. Batteries: Globe Mills, Hill and Doering; White Sox, Harbin and Fogg, Manquera.
